LEVEE AT GRANITE CITY HAS BROKEN.

A Thousand People Driven From Their Homes in the Illinois Lowlands and Given Shelter in Box Cars-Men at Work Endeavoring to Stop the Gap

St. Louis, June 6.-The levee at

Granite City has broken. One thousand persons have abandoned their homes in the lowlands and are seeking shelter in box carz. The Wabash railroad has trains of freight cars waiting on the tracks at Granite City for the use of refugees.

Two hundred men are at work trying to fill the breach with bags of crushed rock. The railroad companies have sent work trains to the place loaded with rock.

The railroad companies have given shelter to 700 homeless. Each family is given the use of a car.

Long trains of thirty and forty inhabited cars are on the sidings at Madison, Granite City and Venice. As the water encroaches on the tracks they are switched to higher ground. This is, in brief, the flood situation to-day across the river from St. Louis.

First Break in the Levec. The first break i the levee occurred about four o'clock Friday afternoon near the pumping station. The men who had been watching the rise of the water did not heed it at first, as the hole was but a few inches in diameter. When the danger was realized the alarm was sent to the police. Telephone messages were sent to Madison, Venice and East St. Louis for assist-

Wagons and conveyances of every description were pressed into service, the furniture and household goods of the families were moved to the cars. By the time the first relief train arrived the opening was as large as a hogshead and the water was rushing through like a whirlpool.

The advisability of cutting the Madison county levee above is being considered to prevent a dangerous inrush of water, which, it is feared, would break the cross-levee.

The chief menace to East St. Louis, aside from the Madison levee breaking, is the backwater of Cahokia creek. For several days the water has been rushing up this stream from the Mississippi with the speed of a mill race, and spreading wherever it could find an outlet. It will continue to rise as long as the river rises, and it is at its east shore that East St. Louis must grapple with the flood.

Already the fight has begun. Work has been started on a levee between the Relay depot and the Broadway vinduct, and this will be extended north and south.

On the St. Louis Side. Every hour now the water mounts higher in the stores it has entered on the levee and creeps closer to those, situated a little higher, which it has not quite reached. Every hour it spreads further over the low-lying territory north and south of the business part of the city.

Every hour increases the present and prospective property loss in St. Louis, and every hour increases the peril of the cities on the east side of the river.

To St. Louis nothing worse can happen than the gradual encroachment of the waters over the lower portions of the city. To the east side there is reason for grave fear that the waters, breaking their restraints, may come with a rush.

The Madison levee is all that holds back the waters, grawing angrily at their barriers, hungry to spread destruction through the east side communities.

It is said that this levce is capable of withstanding 38 feet.

CLEANING OUT BUILDINGS.

One-Third of the Flooded Area Reoccupied in Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., June 6 .- At dark Friday night the water had receded from one-tenth of the flooded area, and the unoccupied district was promptly reoccupied. The territory reclaimed included the Union depot, which suffered $25,000, and a portion of the railroad vards. The recession of the flood has caused a lively de mand for unskilled laborers to repair railroads, clean out buildings and carry rubbish, and with the Kansas harvest near it is expected that every man willing to work will have steady employment for many weeks to come. The electric light service has been resumed. The saloons will be reopened Monday morning. The inhabitants of the lowlands seem perfeetly contented to return to their homes as the water leaves, but railroad men and heads of big industries say there must be a radical change in the bottoms. Some favor raising the level of the railroads and business houses; others would widen the Kansas river channel and some favor building dykes along the Kansas river, with the aid of congress. At any rate, the bridges will be rebuilt high-

A few blocks west of Kansas avenue some of the outbuildings are still standing, and all over town scores and scores of outbuildings are seen in all sorts of position. The small houses which were in the full force of the current are about the only ones which were carried from their foundations. The greater part of North Topeka is a great waste of sand piled up over the steets, house floors, railroad tracks and everything, burying the city from a mere coating to a depth of two or three and, in some places, four feet

Danger Point Believed to Have Passed at Jefferson City.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 6 .- The Missouri river reached its maximum height at two o'clock Friday when the guage registered 31.4 feet above low water mark and stopped. No further danger is anticipated at this place. The rise of more than one foot last night stopped the electric light plant, and as the gas plant had already flooded out the city was in total darkness Friday night

RIVER FALLS AT HANNIBAL.

Business Portion Inundated and the Situation Not Bright.

Hannibal, Mo., June 6 .- The Mississippi has fallen four inches here, but this fall is due to the break in the Sny levee, whereby a vast volume of water poured across the lowlands of lillinois. Hannibal is still inundated in her business portion, and the situation is very gloomy. No Burlington train moved Friday, and of the other roads very few trains were operating. With the principal manufacturing in dustries flooded and closed down hundreds of men are out of employment, and a large number of traveling men are waterbound here.

Conditions in the West Are Exactly Reversed in the East-Crops Drying Up.

Thousands of Acres of Valuable Timber Land Burned Over, and Nothing Can Stay the Fire But Copious Rains-Same Conditions in Province of Quebec.

New York, June 5 .- From Maine to Virginia the farmers have been sending disheartening reports to Forecaster Emory in his eyric at the top of the Manhattan Life building: "Peaches a failure," "germination and growth of all crops retarded by drought," "hay and oats spoiled," "strawberries gone," "pastures and meadows drying up," "hay crop nearly ruined," until it really seems that the financial loss by the drought in the east will be greater than the loss by flood in the west.

No rain is in sight, and the condition is described as the worst spring drought on record.

FIGHTING FOREST FIRES. Thousands of Acres of Valuable Timber Lands Burned Over.

Burlington, Vt., June 5 .- At least 1, 000 men are fighting forest fire in Vermont, yet thousands of acres of valuable timberland have been burned over and there is little prospect that the fires can be checked until we have rain. At Hardwick two residence were destroyed.

The most serious situation is on Worcester mountain, near the towns of Worcester and Elmore. The fire there has burned over 1,400 acres of heavy timberland valued at $50 an acre and is rapidly spreading. The smoke at that locality is so dense objects 50 feet away can not be seen.

two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars Set Apart for Prizes in Live Stock Department.

World's Fair Grounds, St. Louis June 9 .- Announcement is made of the sum set apart by the exposition management for prizes in the live stock department. The amount is $250,000, or more than the aggregate of the appropriations made by all live stock prizes. The Columbian exposition appropriated $142,500, which the committee on agriculture and an enormous sum for such a purpose. In addition to the $250,000 appropriated by the Louisiana Purchase exposition, special prizes will be offered individuals.

The live stock department will have buildings. There will be 33 barns each to accommodate eighty to ninety have moved direct from Winnipeg horses or cattle, and several others barns, 100x000 feet, to accommodate been fitting themselves out for the cows to be used in a dairy demonstration, with silos and feed barns; a new homes, grand ampitheater and arena, 250x45€ feet, for an exhibit ring; and a building for public sales of live stock and for stockmen's conventions, in which will also be made the exhibits and demonstrations with relation to live stock under the auspices of the Association of American Agricultural Coleges and Experiment Stations.

In addition to the classes of horse generally shown, a number of others will compete, including artillery, cavılry, ambulance, fire department, express and ambulance horses.

The prizes offered for cattle, sheep and swine will also have a wide range One of the most interesting and instructive features planned for the exposition will be a comparative test of breeds of cows with reference especially to their dairy qualities in both butter and cheese production, and incidentally their gains in flesh. Poultry, pet stock, dogs and the minor animals and fowls are to be recognized more fully than has ever before been done, and Chief Coburn who has just returned from the flood region of Kansas, states that every energy will be bent to have at St. Louis in 1904 the most extensive and instructive presentation of animal ex aibits in the history of the world.

FLOWERS STREWN ON GRAVES.

President Roosevelt Sends Flower from White House Conservatory for Confederate Graves.

Washington, June 9 .- The first me morial services in honor of the confederate dead interred in the confederate section at Arlington were held Sunday under the auspices of the various Confederate Veterans' associations of the city. They comprised the decoration of the graves with flowers, an address by Hon. John V. Wright, of Tennessee, and the placing of a beautiful wreath on the graves of the 'unknown dead" buried there. Among the flowers contributed for the oc casion were some sent from the White House conservatory by President Roosevelt to Miss Nannie Randolph Heth, daughter of Gen. Harry Heth, of Gettysburg fame. Miss Heth, as-sisted by Dr. Samuel E. Lewis, distributed these upon every one of the 264 graves where confederates rest. A feature of the exercises was the unveiling of the Southern Cross by the Anselem J. McLaurin Camp of Confederate Veterans, a tribute of the Confederate associations to their dead comrades. WESTERN CANADA'S IMMI-GRATION.

Rapid Settlement of the Wheat Fields Lying North of the 49th Parallel.

[From the Chicago Record-Herald.] "Canada has anticipated a very heavy immigration this year, and she now has figures to show that she is actually getting it in a way to meet all her expectations. In the first four months of this year the doors of the previous international expositions for Dominion opened to 40,672 persons, according to a report prepared by was generally considered at the time colonization of the Canadian parliament. This is almost twice as large as the immigration in the corresponding months last year, and fully three times as large as in 1901, the by many live stock associations and respective figures being 22,482 and "Most of these newcomers have 30 acres of ground and about fifty been attracted by the wheat lands of the Northwest territories. They and they have turned that city into somewhat smaller; four octagonal a great camp, in which they have last stage of their adventure for "Of the immigration of this spring a little over a third has come from Great Britain, the figure being 16,-457. This is three times as large as the British immigration of the corresponding months of the preceding year, and it is within 2,500 of the number of immigrants that the United States attracted from Great Britain and Ireland in the same period this spring. As to the remainder of the immigration into Canada, 13,770 settlers came from the United States, a 50 per cent. increase over the preceding year, and 10,445 from Continental Europe, a 40 per cent. increase.

"These 40,672 immigrants Canada may appear trifling in comparison with the 297,070 persons who entered the United States in the same period, but they are proportionately more important to country. Canada's population is onefifteenth of ours, but her immigration is now two-fifteenths as large as ours. It is worth remembering also that Canada's immigrants are almost entirely of Anglo-Saxon and Teutonic races, while our immigration is now two-thirds made up of Romance and Slav elements.

"Speculation is natural as to the future of Canada in her relations to the United States when her North west territories are filled up, but the one absolutely certain fact of the near future is that the United States is to have a great competitor in the grain markets of the world." The above editorial article taken from the columns of the Chicago Record-Herald of May2 26th shows the condition of the Canadian Im migration, which as pointed out, has had a constant growth-a marvelously increasing growth-for the past six or seven years, until this year, it is confidently assumed the increase to Canada's population, by way of Immigration, will exceed This is accounted for by the great agricultural resources which abound there.
